experienced by Gotch during the period when the champion was in the making were his fourth and fifth encounters with Tom Jenkins, March 15 and May 19, 1905, respectively.

New York fans were eager to see the new mat sensation from lowa, and Gotch agreed to the fourth meeting with Jenkins to be staged in the metropolis. Unfortunately he contracted a severe cold making night jumps en route eastward. He decided, however, to keep the engagement. The match was at Greco-Roman style and Gotch, unfitted for mat tiger like Jenkins, went down to an honorable defeat after taking one at him by Gotch. This was a bitter disappointmet to the lowa boy, who had dreamed of winning the world's championship. Hackenschmidt returned 'o Europe, claiming that honor. Gotch was eager to regain his lost prestige and remained in the east until Jenkins agreed to a return match. The encounter took place at Madison Square garden May 19, and proved to be one of the most savage in wrestling history Gotch was still suffering slightly from his cold, and Jenkins was in prime condition.

The outcome of this match was a metropolis for its treatment of their hero on this occasion. Speak to any old resident of Humboldt about it and he will tell you that Gotch was robbed and beaten by the most outlandish exhibition of thievery ever perpetrated in American sports. They contend that the referee winked at Jenkins' rough tactics and permitted him to grasp the ropes every time Gotch had him near dressing room. a fall. Gotch, however, took his de-

The referee was Tim Hurst, famous for his eccentricities as a baseball umpire. It was a grudge match and the winner took all the receipts.

At the call of time Jenkins rushed in but was stopped by Gotch, who put the veteran down on the mat. Gotch held Jenkins down for nearly half an hour. Jenkins finally broke away and landed a heavy blow on Gotch's mouth Gotch protested but Hurst told him to go on and wrestle. Jenkins grabbed Gotch around the neck for a strangle a rough and tumble encounter with a hold and after several minutes of protesting by Gotch in which he received a good choking, the grip was loosened.

Jenkins kicked and strangled Gotch. He fouled him deliberately. Gotch re-taliated with rough work. Six times Jenkins caught the ropes to avoid a fall. Each time Hurst ordered the men to the center to begin anew. Jenkins caught Gotch with a head hold which Tim Hurst called a "mug hold" and Gotch went down to defeat in 1:30:00.

World Champions Could Furnish Football Team

How baseball does hang around in the spotlight! The world's champions, alias the Athletics, present these good reasons: Eddie Collins was a quarter back at Holy Cress; Jack Coombs was a fullback at Colby: Chief Bender was a tackle at Carlisle, one of the best, too: Jack McInnis played on the Glouces ter (Mass.) eleven, and Eddie Murphy was a pigskin knight at Villanova.

CONNIE MACK DENIES STORY Brands as Absolute Falsehood Report That He Picked Greatest Baseball Team in the World.

Connie Mack, manager of the Athletics, brands as absolutely false the line-up of an all-star baseball team alleged to have been picked by him as the greatest baseball aggregation in the world.

"I did not pick an all-star team, neither did I give my consent for any one to do it for me," said Mack. "Furthermore, I would not pick such a team for publication, as I do not believe in stirring up trouble among players, and I think picking an all-star team is foolish business.

"If I picked such a team Ty Cobb most certainly would have been my first choice for outfield. I never allow my personal feelings to interfere with business, nor do I allow them to prevent me from giving a player his just

"I do not consider the New Yorkers treated me fairly when they credited me with picking an all-star team."

INTERNATIONAL GOLF MATCH

Plan Proposed to Have Annual Tournament Somewhat Similar to Davis Cup Games in Tennis.

The idea of an annual international golf match, somewhat along the line of the Davis cup tournament in tennis, has been condoned by Harold H. Hilton, the British champion. He is quoted as saying that the abandonment of the team match between Scotland and England, which has been an annual event for many years in Great Britain, may be succeeded by an amateur international match, in which England and Scotland will meet as allies, instead of rivals, with "their opponents hailing from the other side of the Atlantic."

DE ORO RETAINS HIS TITLE 30. Dennis D. McCarthy, Joseph T.

At Fifty Years of Age Noted Cuban Expert is Still Stacking His Skill Against All-Comers.

the pen or the sword is the opinion of 35. William J. Clark, William Alfredo De Oro, the world's famous pool and billiard expert, who recently successfully defended his title of champion at three-cushion billiards by defeating Joseph Carney of Denver. De Oro is the champion of all champions, as he has been the king of his favorite sport longer than anybody in any other line.

Over a generation ago De Oro was known the length and breadth of the country as the foremost pool player, and he has been going along, trimming all comers up to the present time, at the age of fifty years De Oro has won over $100,000 in purses and side bets at pool (now styled pocket billiards) and three-cushion billiards. He is the possessor of all the emblems ever offered in competition at pool except the one Benny Allen recently captured from him, but before long he hopes to reannex that. De Oro never plays unless he has a bet on himself. He has such great confidence in his ability to outplay all tardt. comers that he is willing to back himself for any reasonable amount, but never for the big sums he wagered on himself years ago when his eyesight was keener and his arm steadier. De Oro held a pool title for eighteen years at a stretch, the longest period that anybody ever held a championship in any division of sport. De Oro was once worth a tremendous fortune, and he really was obliged to follow the game of pool, which he at first took up as a pastime, because he needed the money. At the time of the Spanish-American war, in 1898, he was wealthy, but the ravages of conflict and stock market upset caused him to lose every cent he had in the world. De Oro was born at Manzanillo, Cuba, two score and ten years ago.

Gives Rickey Ten Years.

Branch Rickey, the new manager of the Browns, has been assured by Owner Robert Lee Hedges that he will have a chance seldom offered to a manager to show what he can make out of the Browns. In other words, Hedges will give Rickey ten years in which to develop a team. Whether the Browns run last or first during the next ten years, Rickey will be retained, and with the remarkable show of confidence that he has already been shown by the players, the fans are beginning for the first time in years to believe that St. Louis may really have a good team.
